Dear Adaeze,

Congratulations! The George Mason University School of Business would like to offer you admission to the Master of Science in Business Analytics for the Fall 2023 semester with a scholarship. Our competitive applicant pool has allowed us to select diverse and accomplished candidates. The Admissions Committee is impressed with your academic and personal background. We believe that you will benefit from and contribute to our program. Welcome, we are eager to have you join us!

To succeed in today's global marketplace, you need a diverse skillset, broader insights, and the confidence that comes from knowing you are truly prepared to assume a critical leadership role. We cultivate the next generation of leaders for the challenges and opportunities of today's global market through a rigorous, stimulating business and management curriculum based on a global perspective, industry demand, and leadership. The George Mason University School of Business is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) International.

I am pleased to inform you that you have been selected as a scholarship recipient as part of your admission. The type of funding you have received is a Master's in Business Analytics Scholarship for the 2023-2024 academic year in the amount of $8,500. Half of that amount is to be applied in module one and the remaining half is to be applied in module three. This scholarship is to support your enrollment in the School of Business. It must be used during the period specified above and can only be applied toward tuition for courses taken in the School of Business. Any unused portion of the scholarship may not be carried forward beyond the award period. Your award may be adjusted or canceled if your residency changes or if you are receiving other benefits that are for tuition and fees. To guarantee your scholarship, please accept your offer of admission by the next enrollment deadline.
